1. Management's message

Dear suppliers,

Evalueserve focuses on business integrity and ethical practices while driving innovative solutions. As a corporate citizen, we aim for a seamless coexistence with our shareholders, clients, suppliers, partners, employees, and local communities.

We sustain our brand values by maintaining high standards in service quality and the ethical, moral, and legal aspects. We apply fairness, honesty, and integrity to ensure transparency and accelerate our overall growth and long-term value for stakeholders. Evalueserve is an equal opportunity employer that offers a level playing field for everyone.

In order to integrate responsible and sustainable decision-making, we have adopted the United Nations Global Compact (UNGC) into our corporate governance policies. We are aligning our policies and practices with the Ten Principles of UNGC in human rights, labor, environment, and anti-corruption areas.

We have developed the SCOC – a list of measures and practices that guide Evalueserve's suppliers across locations – to help suppliers understand our expectations. It covers the principles of sustainable development, which Evalueserve considers a high priority. It also aims to ensure that our suppliers abide by internationally accepted environmental, social, and corporate governance (ESG) standards and laws, as well as implement these standards across their supply chains.

Our suppliers are a crucial component of our success. We believe in working hand-in-hand with our suppliers to understand various supply chain challenges and eliminate them on time so that we continue to grow together.

2. Introduction

Evalueserve is committed to the highest standards of business ethics and sustainable processes. To achieve our objectives, apart from implementing global best practices across our lines of business and supply chain, we have developed this SCOC to outline requirements our suppliers need to comply with while transacting with us or their employees, suppliers, and other stakeholders.

In this document, suppliers refer to service providers, vendors, traders, agents, consultants, suppliers, contractors, joint venture partners, third parties (including their employees), agents, and other representatives who have a business relationship with and provide, sell, or seek to sell any kind of goods or services to Evalueserve or any of its subsidiaries, affiliates, and divisions.

The SCOC defines our minimum expectations from suppliers and guides them on how to meet those expectations. No code of conduct can be all-inclusive, but we expect our suppliers to act reasonably and ensure that no abusive, exploitative, or illegal conditions exist at their workplaces.

3. Scope

The SCOC applies to all suppliers associated with Evalueserve. We expect suppliers to adhere to this SCOC, along with all applicable laws and regulations wherever they operate. They must incorporate these standards into their operations and communicate them to their employees, regardless of contract type, workplace location, or third-party contractual employees. We also expect them to take necessary measures to ensure their suppliers adhere to this SCOC.

Evalueserve reserves the right to evaluate its suppliers on their compliance with the SCOC.

4. Focus areas

Suppliers must adhere to this SCOC while conducting business with or on behalf of Evalueserve. They must understand and follow the SCOC's principles and guidelines in spirit and letter and promote its requirements across their supply chains.

4.1 Ethics and compliance

All suppliers must act responsibly, honestly, fairly, transparently, and with integrity.

4.1.1 Anti-bribery / anti-corruption practices

Suppliers must not offer, give, promise, or authorize any bribe, gift, favor, loan, fee, reward, or other advantages to any government or Evalueserve employee, customer, or any other person to obtain any business or improperly influence any action or decision. They must follow all local and national laws and regulations related to bribery, corruption, and prohibited business practices.

4.1.2 Fair competition

Suppliers must comply with all competition and antitrust laws and avoid the violation of the principles of fair competition. They must not engage in activities that reduce or distort competition, such as agreements with competitors to impose some prices and other unfair business practices. Furthermore, they must deal fairly with their customers, suppliers, competitors, and employees and avoid taking any unfair advantage by manipulating, omitting, or misrepresenting facts.

4.1.3 Privacy and confidentiality

Suppliers must protect the confidential / personal information of their business associates, suppliers, clients, and employees. They should not abuse or misuse any intellectual property (trade secret, copyright, trademarks, etc.) or confidential / personally identifiable information posted or shared by Evalueserve. They should not disclose Evalueserve's confidential information for their own financial benefit or that of their friends, relatives, or others. Suppliers, including their employees, must not use or disclose material non-public information for securities trading.

4.1.4 Compliance with data protection laws

Suppliers must comply with all applicable data protection laws when collecting, processing, storing, or otherwise handling the personal data of individuals, including, but not limited to, their employees, customers, suppliers, and business partners. They must maintain the availability as well as protect the confidentiality and integrity of the information provided to them by Evalueserve, except where disclosure is required by law or authorized by Evalueserve. They must report any actual or suspected data breaches immediately following their detection to Evalueserve.

4.2 Labor and human rights practices

Evalueserve's suppliers should maintain the following basic standards related to people's fundamental dignity and rights:

4.2.1 Anti-discrimination / harassment measures

Suppliers must treat their employees and other business associates with dignity and respect. They should not discriminate based on race, color, religion, gender, sexual orientation, age, physical ability, health condition, political opinion, nationality, social or ethnic origin, or marital status while hiring or offering training, promotions, and rewards to employees.

4.2.2 Working hours and wages

Suppliers must comply with and convey to employees the applicable laws related to working hours, minimum wages, overtime payment, rest periods, leave policy, and other essential benefits (e.g., social security). They must provide fair compensation to employees (full-time, temporary, freelance, migrant, and contractual workers and apprentices) as mandated by regulations in the regions they operate in.

4.2.3 Health and safety

Suppliers must comply with all applicable health and safety laws, define methods, and document results to reduce workplace accidents, deaths, and illnesses. They must ensure a safe and healthy work environment (e.g., clean facilities, well-maintained equipment, adequate lighting and ventilation, etc.) and take necessary precautions to prevent accidents and injuries. Suppliers must ensure a safe and hygienic work environment for employees and provide them with adequate safety equipment and training.

4.2.4 Child and forced labor

Suppliers associated with Evalueserve cannot use child labor, which means they cannot employ a person under the age of compulsory education or the minimum age of employment, whichever is higher. They should not engage employees under the age of 18 years in work that could endanger employees' health or safety, including night shifts and overtime. They should not engage in any form of forced labor, including slavery, forced prison labor, bonded labor, or forced government labor. All employees must demonstrate that their employment is voluntary and without any physical or mental coercion.

4.2.5 Freedom of association and right to collective bargaining

Suppliers must respect employees' rights to freedom of association, collective bargaining, and peaceful assembly (including the right to refrain from such activities as per local legal requirements and international standards such as International Labor Organization standards). When employees exercise their rights, they should not be intimidated, harassed, or subjected to retaliation. Suppliers have to find other approaches to meaningfully discuss employment-related issues and workplace concerns with their workers if this right is restricted by local laws or circumstances.

4.2.6 Modern slavery

Suppliers must proactively identify, address, and report risks of modern slavery practices (defined broadly to include all forms of human trafficking, forced labor, and slavery-like practices) in their business operations and supply chain in accordance with relevant legislation.

4.3 Environmental sustainability standards

Evalueserve recognizes its social responsibility to promote environmental sustainability and protection. We expect our suppliers to be aligned with Evalueserve's commitments to actively reduce waste generation, water consumption, and carbon emissions.

4.3.1 Energy consumption and greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions

Suppliers must undertake initiatives to improve energy efficiency and reduce GHG emissions. They must also track and document their energy consumption and GHG emissions data and provide it to Evalueserve when requested.

4.3.2 Pollution and resource reduction measures

Suppliers must reduce or eliminate the emission and discharge of pollutants and waste generation. To do so, they can take necessary steps at the source; add pollution control equipment; modify production, maintenance, and facility processes; or use other relevant means. They must conserve natural resources (water, fossil fuels, and minerals) by substituting, reusing, or recycling them.

4.3.3 Waste management practices

Suppliers have to implement a systematic approach to identify, manage, reduce, and responsibly dispose of or recycle solid (non-hazardous) waste. Chemicals and other substances that pose a risk to people or the environment must be identified, labeled, and managed to ensure safe handling, movement, storage, usage, recycling or reuse, and disposal of such materials.

4.3.4 Water management measures

Suppliers must implement a water management program to document, describe, and monitor sources, usage, and discharge of water used in their facilities. They should look for opportunities to conserve water and characterize, monitor, control, and treat wastewater as necessary before discharge or disposal.

5. Diversity and inclusion practices

Suppliers must encourage a diverse workforce and strive to eliminate barriers to equality by incorporating diversity and inclusion strategies in their business practices and proactively engaging with diverse suppliers. We believe that economic opportunities should be inclusive for every stakeholder, community, and person. We encourage our suppliers to support diversity and inclusion practices because it is a never-ending journey.

6. Violation of the SCOC

Suppliers should read this SCOC as an integral part of the terms and conditions of services and purchase agreements. Although non-compliance with this SCOC may not only result in immediate contract termination, but it may also impact future business opportunities between Evalueserve and the non-conforming party.

We expect suppliers to have documented practices, guidelines, and policies that support their sustainable business practices and ensure that they are best serving their respective stakeholders while minimizing their risks.

7. Violation reporting

Suppliers must report any violation of ethics or non-compliance with the SCOC by Evalueserve employees or its suppliers at Purchaseteam@evalueserve.com.

Evalueserve will maintain the complainant's confidentiality to the extent possible and will not tolerate any retribution or retaliation against any individual / business who has, in good faith, sought out advice or reported questionable behavior or a possible violation of the SCOC.

8. Supplier declaration
